This is a pre-print version of the Rebecca S. Richards's praxis wiki contribution "Wiki Writing as Cyberfeminist Pedagogical Practice" published in Kairos: Rhetoric, Technology, Pedagogy, 19(1), available at http://kairos.technorhetoric.net/19.1.

Image 2: Transcription of Gender and Literature Wiki Home Page Image

Gender & Lit Utopia Dystopia Wiki Home, [Link to] Edit, [Link to] Talk

[Links listed along the top, right navigation of the page] On the Wiki, Popular Pages, Community, Contribute, Share, Wiki Activity, Random page, Videos, Photos

116 Pages on this wiki, [Box to] Search this wiki

Contents, [Link to] Hide

1. Welcome to the Gender and Literature Utopia/Dystopia Wiki
   1.1 This is a space for English 264 to discover issues related to gender in literature about utopias and dystopias.
   1.2 Help the wiki grow by adding pages and resources of interest.
2. Major Sections

Welcome to the Gender and Literature Utopia/Dystopia Wiki, [Link to] Edit

This is a space for English 264 to discover issues related to gender in literature about utopias and dystopias. [Link to] Edit

[Image of man and woman in the foreground embracing with futuristic city image in background; man with gun in hand pointed away and to his right.] [Photo] Added by Brich11

Help the wiki grow by adding pages and resources of interest. [Link to] Edit

Major Sections, [Link to] Edit

Here are links to other major sections of this wiki:

[Links provided to each page on the list.]

1. Vocabulary
2. Textual Analyses
3. Recent Wiki Activity
4. Wiki Writing Guidelines
5. Other Interesting Tidbits
6. Characters from Books We've Read