

Janine on Search as Treasure Hunt

JP: That's interesting that there's this sense of, this kind of game quality of searching.

J: It's a treasure hunt. It's, yeah, it's like a puzzle, and that's the thing that I actually really like about Google, and, sort of, the unlimited possibilities. You know how people talk about information overload or whatever. But it's not really all that. You learn strategies.